

Chantelle Randle

Biological & Forensic
Science

Going to Africa to volunteer has been something I've wanted to do for a lifetime- my friends and family haven't heard the last of it. I have been looking for the past years and have been undecided on a safe ethical company; therefore this trip to Malawi is perfect. I want to be part of making a difference, to be able to say I went out and helped to make a change for those less fortunate. I want to meet people that will change my life and see the happy faces despite their circumstance. I want to experience and explore all of their culture and make new friends that I will never forget; I want to turn my imagination of visiting such a beautiful place into a reality.

I'm a very caring and understanding person and used to communicating with a variety of new people as I've worked part time in Starbucks for 5 years. Since I have younger siblings, I have experience of being around/ helping with children. They are always asking for help with homework and I often teach them new things. I am a creative person and draw portraits and pictures for friends and family, also wall designs. I take part in face painting for events and create real tattoos on people. I enjoy crafts and make cards for occasions for family and also love dancing.

I am a keen learner and enjoy trying new things and would be keen to get involved with the African way of life.